RedRover works with you to create the best training experience for your teachers—from one teacher to 1,000!

An Internet connection is all you need. Take the online or in-person workshops in staff meeting rooms, multipurpose rooms, etc.

Our trainers are selected for their engaging presentation styles and knowledge of the subject matter. You’ll walk away with many Aha! moments.

Try out the program, and you’ll see just how effective the RedRover Readers curriculum can be at helping you create positive classroom culture.

Animals are interesting. The question and discussion style will increase students’ engagement.

1. Train as many people as you’d like.
2. No fancy technology required.
3. Gain insights and views from field leaders.
4. Create positive classroom culture.
5. Highly engaging curriculum.

More than

20 books with curriculum including Spanish*

2,157 educators & volunteers trained*

103,817 children reached*

*stats as of 12/31/20

Children’s self-reported quality time spent with their pets predicts their empathy scores and in turn predicts social behaviors.”
- 2016, The New School for Social Research, Dr. Emanuel Castano

The program builds self-esteem and students’ empathy for pets.”

I saw a positive change in how children treat people and animals after they participated in the RedRover Readers program.”
- 2017 Parent Survey, RedRover

“Testimonials

“This curriculum helped my students show compassion to others. Highly recommend it to other educators.”
- Brett Glennon, Teacher, Marshall Elementary, CA

“I learned how to have trust in someone or something.”
- Gabriel, Student, Aspire Elementary School, CA

“The RedRover Readers program is so impactful, and it is appropriate for any age. It is a strong, moving, and meaningful program. I recommend it to educators everywhere! The questioning techniques pull students in. They are non-biased and non-threatening techniques that encourage peer-to-peer teaching.”
- Brenda Fiorini, Teacher, IL

Email us at Readers@RedRover.org or visit us at RedRover.org/Readers to request a RedRover Readers professional development workshop for your school or school district.